

Is your business compliant?

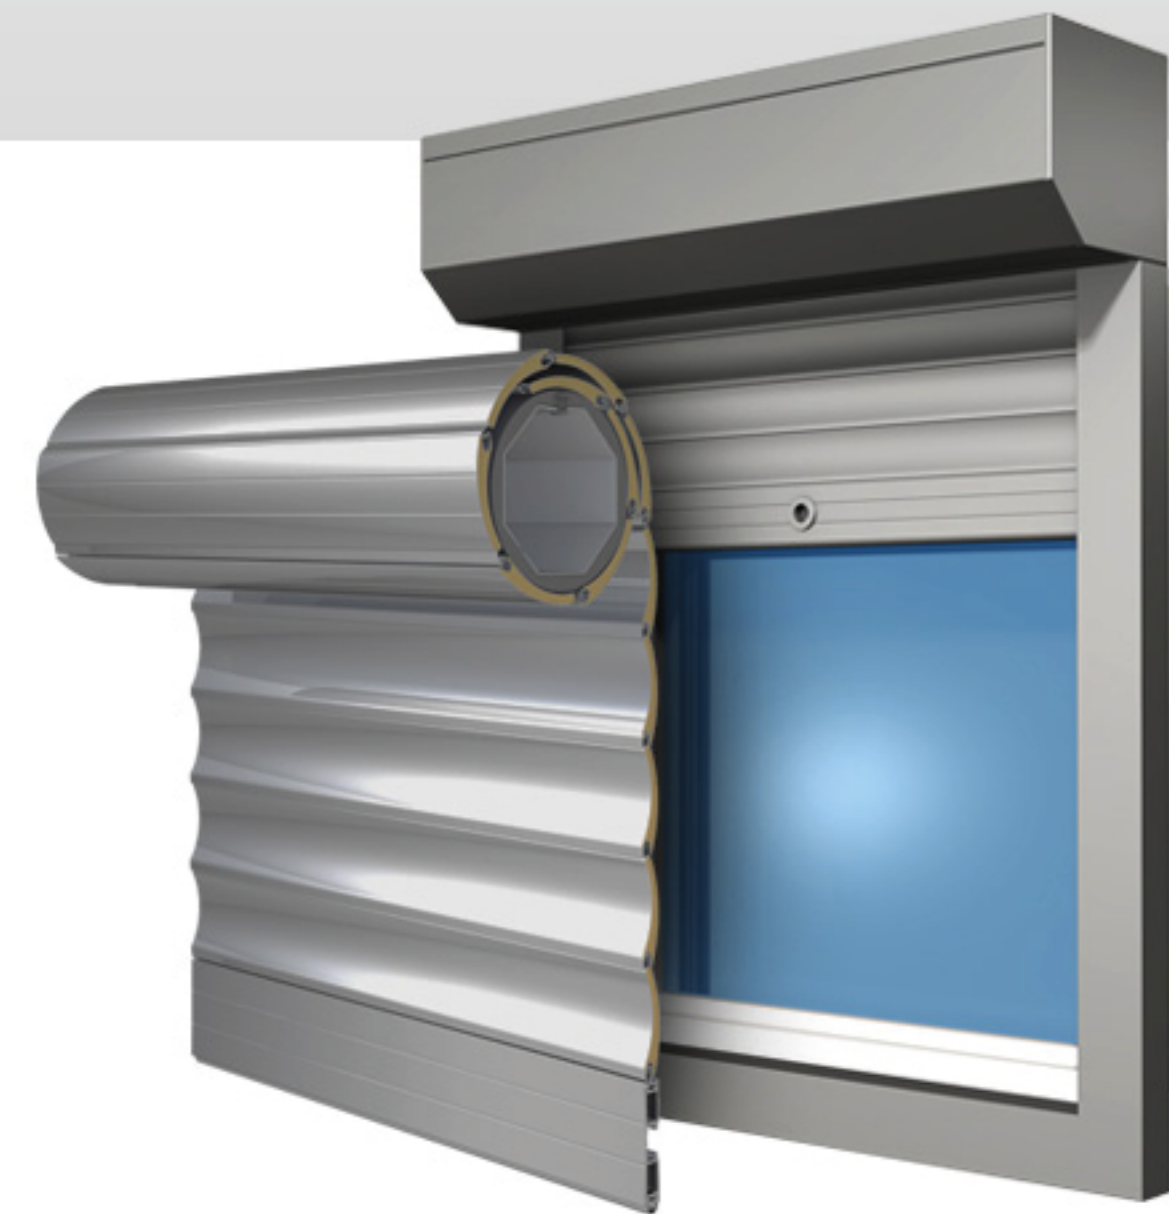

...

Owners Responsibility

- Be Safe, Be Vigilant, Be Legal
- Door Maintenance Imperative
- Follow Operation & Maintenance Guides
- Report/Record/Action Faults – Keep Records
- Keep Product Service Logs
- Service to Requirements
- Products CE Marked (Certificate of Compliance)
- Access for inspection of Roller Shutters
- Access to Door Headgear (Where Applicable)

Legislations and Standards

- The Law: England, Scotland & Wales Regulations 5 & 18 of the Workplace (Health & Safety Welfare) Regulation 1992
- The Provisions and use of Work Equipment Regulation 1998
- Fire Doors are covered by the Regulatory Reform (Fire Safety) Order 2005 (RRO)
- Building Regulations
- Machinery Directive
- Construction Products Regulation
- Health and Safety at Work Act 1974
- Article 5 – Health and Safety Act 1978
- Anti Fall-Back Provision BS EN 12604:2017

...

The lists of applicable legislations are not exhaustive: other criminal legislation may well apply at any given location dependant on precise details of the system and location.

Workplace Legislation – Anyone in control of a workplace is required to ensure that doors are maintained and safe in a good working order.

Repairing or otherwise working on doors could leave a maintenance contractor in breach of health and safety legislation and in the event of an incident, the owner/manager could also face legal proceedings.

For more Information, please contact us:

Call: 01384 394600

Email: info@ringssecurityshutters.co.uk

Office Hours: 9.00am - 5.00pm